The second sentence, as you said, contains a superlative, &quot;best.&quot; In English, unlike in some other languages such as Spanish, the superlative does not require a definite article. In fact, it ...

The word &quot;best&quot; is an adjective, and adjectives do not take articles by themselves. Because the noun car is modified by the superlative adjective best, and because this makes ...

Either is fine, but (American here) I think &quot;Something that best suits your needs&quot; would be the most common way of saying it.

So, &quot; It is the best ever &quot; means it"s the best of all time, up to the present. &quot; It was the best ever &quot; means either it was the best up to that point in time, and a better one may have ...

&quot;Which one is the best&quot; is obviously a question format, so it makes sense that &quot; which one the best is &quot; should be the correct form. This is very good instinct, and you could even argue that ...

In your context, the best relates to {something}, whereas best relates to a course of action. Plastic, wood, or metal container? What was the best choice for this purpose? Plastic, wood, ...

Consider this sentences: This is the best ever song that I've heard. This is the best song ever that I've heard. Which of them is correct? How should we combine &quot;best ever&quot; and a noun in gen...

Both sentences could mean the same thing, however I like you best. I like chocolate best, better than anything else can be used when what one is choosing from is not ...
